About CPDI

Centre for Peace and Development Initiatives (CPDI) is an independent, non-partisan, and not-for-profit civil society organization working on issues of peace and development in Pakistan. It is registered Under Section 42 of the Companies Ordinance, 1984 (XLVII of 1984). It was established in September 2003 by a group of concerned citizens who realized that there was a need to approach the issue of peace and development in an integrated manner. CPDI is the first initiative of its kind in Pakistan. It seeks to inform and influence public policies and civil society initiatives through research-based advocacy and capacity building in order to promote citizenship, build peace and achieve inclusive and sustainable development. Areas of special sectoral focus include promotion of peace and tolerance, rule of law, transparency, and access to information, budget watch, media watch, election watch, legislative watch, and democratic development.

Introduction to the Assignment:

The assignment is under LOGO II program, which is being jointly implemented by CPDI and GIZ in the KP province. The objective of the LOGO II is to “have the regulatory, personnel and financial prerequisites for the effective delivery of public services.” The CPDI’s project interventions envision improvement in the service delivery by providing technical support to local government departments. In general, the coverage and quality of municipal services have been a major challenge in Pakistan, despite the fact that such services can play a critical role in improving the quality of life and meeting national/ international commitments like the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The individual consultant/ media firm shall develop a documentary on the successful interventions and their impact at a larger level. The assignment will broadly include the following two components:

- (a) development and finalization of the concept and the script; and
- (b) development of a short version (2-3 mins.) and a long version (8-10 mins) video-based documentary on the approved concept/ script, and then its editing/ finalization based on the feedback from the project team.
